The Brief

Conquest Lawnmowers asked me to re-write the copy on their website.

They make two ranges of quality lawnmowers and other garden tools, for consumers and professionals respectively. Their ranges are expensive but will last much longer than cheaper alternatives.

Their products can't be bought in large DIY stores or over the internet, but are sold through a network of approved dealers. These dealers are all experts and can help people choose the best machine for their requirements.

Conquest also offers servicing and maintenance of its machines through the dealer network.
